Sensitively positioned on an elevated location the home is built with appreciation of local architecture with modern versatility. Inclined masonry facades typical to Ibiza are complimented by extensive glazing, which welcomes in an excellent quality of natural light at all hours of the day.

The lateral layout of the home provides versatility and sensitive divisions. All five bedrooms have access to the fragrant garden and all have en-suites fitted with luxury sanitary ware. Bedrooms of calming pastel colours create a place of calm and refuge from the generous and flowing entertaining spaces. Particular detail is made to furniture which has been designed and manufactured by the owner in collaboration with a local artisan tradesman. The resultant home is one of peaceful domestic austere with accents of Scandinavian design but quintessentially Ibiza. The open-planned kitchen with wood finishes and consistence in materials is delicately designed to communicate with social areas of the house whilst high quality subtle appliances ensure high performance. The home opens up with a seamless transition between indoor/outdoor living and provides expansive views of countryside as well as the lush greens and bursts of colour in this spectacular garden.
